A kind farmer went out into the fields with a bag full of little seeds. He walked along happily, scattering the seeds onto the ground so that beautiful, vibrant plants might grow.

Some seeds fell right onto the hard edge of a path. Soon, hungry birds flew down from the sky, spotted the seeds on the ground, and quickly ate them all up. Not a single one was left!

Other seeds fell in a place full of rocks, with very little soil. They sprouted quickly, but the hot sun beat down and dried them out, as they had no deep roots.

Some seeds fell among weeds filled with prickly thorns. As the little plants tried to grow, the thorns pressed against them and choked them, preventing them from flourishing and bearing fruit.

But, fortunately, many other seeds fell into soft, moist, and fertile soil. The soil nurtured them with such care that the plants grew strong, beautiful, and full of life!

Do you know what happened next? Those seeds in the good soil produced an abundance of delicious fruit! Some yielded thirty, others sixty, and some even a hundred times more than what the farmer had originally planted.

Jesus told this story to show that our hearts are like the soil. When we listen to the Word of God with love and keep it safe within us, our lives produce much good fruit!
